Gold Firm, Securities Strong and Stocks Buoyant.

WALL STREET, SUNDAY, Jan. 11, 1874.

Whether so rapid an advance in the price of se-curities as has taken place during the past week is desirable or not, it is certainly significant of extraordinary confidence on the part of the public in the prevailing strength of the situation. A prediction made sixty days ago that we should witness such an extraordinary state of things as is now observable would scarcely have been believed. Yet on all sides there are powerful reasons for the existing buoyancy. The banks are stronger than at any period since the panic. The loan certificates issued by them have been reduced in amount to a mere trifle, if not entirely absorbed. Money is consequently easy and abundant. From SIXTY TO SEVENTY MILLIONS OF GOLD and currency are in process of payment in the shape of interest and dividends due on the 1st of January, and the disbursements of the government from the "reserve" now amount to say $25,000,000 more. The latter, however, is a weapon that cuts both ways. On the one hand, it has proved an unhealthy stimulus, because it tended to create artificial strength on a mere assumption of expansion, for the amount has really not yet entered the channels of trade. On the other nand, it has familiarized the public mind with an idea of inflation and inspired the hope that Congress will adopt bring about this result. Under such a combination of circumstances it is but natural that speculation should have become suddenly rampant, and that, closing their eyes to the dangers of the future, men rushed madly into the ARENA OF WALL STREET.

and added to the tumult of the strife. There are, however, certain practical and healthy agencies at work which are not to be lost sight of in reviewing the pending state of adairs. Improvement is reported in commercial circles. Fewer failures have occurred than were expected, as the result of embarrassments produced by the panic. A summing up of the receipts of 15 Western railroads shows an increase of 9 per cent in favor of 1873. A similar calculation of the returns of 17 Western roads for December, 1872 and 1873, exhibits an increase of 10 per cent in favor of the last year. There has also been a large increase of the depositors in savings banks throughout the manufacturing States; a resumption of the various suspended processes of labor-although at reduced wagesand, in short, a much more rapid recovery from

THE RECENT CRISIS than cou'd possibly have been foreseen. It is a condition of affairs, therefore, that has invited confidence, and although more or less of glamour may be thrown around it, especially in Wall street; although there may be present elements of dan-ger which call for the exercise of the utmost cauon; although some of the shrewdest operators on 'Change are now moving as carefully as it they trod on broken glass; although inflation of currency and undue speculation are sure to lead to another panta scores of new accounts are being made and new people are dabbling more or less deeply in the dangerous pools. We see it stated in the financial column of a Boston paper that even in that staid city "the upward movement of stocks in New York is daily attracting more and ore attention, and more than one Boston man intent on a good 'turn' has gained enough to make him do it again or lost enough to make him sick." What is true of Boston is equally true of other towns and cities, near and remote.

CAPITAL HAS COME, HITHER, and found investment in railroad securities, government bonds and the fluctuating chances of steadily, and of late with but comparatively little reaction, until it seems as if the heads of menand women, too, for that matter—had been turned by the prospects of sudden wealth. Unless a check occurs in this grand upward journey of values the plethora of money must inevitably stimulate credits, swell the bubble of speculation, lead to the wildest ventures and end in disastrous collapse.

THE MONEY MARKET of the week has been exceedingly easy, with call loans ranging from 5 to 7 per cent and the bulk of the business done at the lesser figure. For prime discounts the range was from 7 to 9 per cent. It is freely predicted that the rates of money will be much lower, inasmuch as they must obey the law or expansion now at work. The legal tenders now outstanding are $381,891,000.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

Our business men are rapidly becoming accus tomed to the new method of quoting exchange, and like it exceedingly because of its perfect simplicity. The quotation, 4 82, is clear to everybody, whether in business or not, as meaning that ster ling pounds in the shape of drafts can be bought for $4 82 gold, and it requires no long process of reasoning and of figuring to show how it came about that when sterling exchange appears to be above par it is in reality below it. According to the new method, too, small gradations as to value can be expressed without the use of extremely small fractions, which are, to say the least, annoy-THE BANK STATEMENT.

than unusual strength. It will be noted that large gains have taken place in specie, loans, legal tend which amounts to upwards of $14,000,000. It will also be observed that the excess over the legal reserve of 25 per cent is $5,189,000. The following is a comparison of the averages for the past two

The total exports of specie since January 1, tals year, are $540,447, against $2,695,233 in 1873 and of the week is but a logical sequence of outpouring currency and expanded credits. Subject always to speculation, it will, of course, move up and down by turns, but he would be an unsafe leader who selts "short" under existing circumstances and counts on a permanent decline for other opportuties to repeat his operation.

> The prosperity of Chicago is as marked the past year as during any period of her wonderful growth. There was $550,000,000 worth of goods sold in that city during 1873 at wholesale alone. This is a gain of 18 per cent over the same business of 1872 and a gain of 31 per cent over that of 1870; while the total value of the product of manufactures for the year is $165,000,000. Her greatest specialties are breadstuds and hog products. Of the former the receipts were 96,731,598 bushels, against 88,426,842 in 1872, and 83,518,202 bushels in 1871; and the enormous number of 4,360,000 live hogs and 765,000 head of cattle; the value of the receipts of all kinds of produce being about $240,000,000,

THE STOCK MARKET.

As indicated before, great activity prevailed during the week in this department, and the advances were very decided. The chief teatures were Pacific Mail, Western Union, Lake Shore, C., C. and I. C., Northwest common, Ohio and Mississippi and Union Facific. The causes have already been explained and it is unnecessary to reiterate them here. The following tables will be useful as showing those stocks which moved most stead-ily and retained their improvement at the end.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

Cotton Quiet-Flour Steady-Wheat Firm-Corn Higher-Oats Steady-Provisions Easy-Groceries Firm-Petroleum Quiet-Naval Stores Unchanged-Freights Steady-Whiskey Firm.

SATURDAY, Jan. 10-6 P. M. The merchandise markets were characterized by a good degree of buoyancy and firmness during the grater part of the week last past, the firmness and upward tendency of the gold premium confirming the belief which was generally entertained that there is no probability of a contraction of the currency, but, on the contrary, every likelihood of a further increase of the currency and consequent inflation of prices. The tenacity with which every department of the government insists upon an increase of appropriation by Congress, and the supineness of that body, forbid the hope of any considerable retrenchment; hence the gradual appreciation of the gold premium. The merchandise markets, ever sensitive, have already responded to the apparently inevitable deprecia tion of the currency, and a general inflation seems to have set in thus early, when the spring season is in active, the markets have ruled firm, and many articles of merchandlse have advanced and tend toward a still higher basis. The export movement in breadstuffs has been moderate, chiefly because of increasing firmness on the part of sellers, who have demanded advanced prices every day, so that at the close of the week prices were generally higher, though the markets were quiet, Corn has moved freely and at steady advancing prices, the market leaving off buoyant at the highest prices of the season. Oats also advanced considerably during the week, as did whiskey and nearly all kinds of provisions, though in the latter there was some pression at this close of the week. there was some recession at the close of the week. On Change on Saturday flour was quiet, but firm. Wheat was quiet, but could not be obtained in any considerable quantity save at extreme figures. Corn was in active request for shipment to European ports, and a further material advance was established, the market closing buoyant, with a still further advance demanded. Oats were steady. Whiskey was steady. Provisions were quiet and easy. Freights ruled quiet and easy all through the week, closing a trifle lower. Groceries were quiet but firm for all descriptions. Cotton was quiet and steady for lots on the spot, but futures were rather better. Petroleum was quiet and steady. Naval stores met with a wederate demand at vesterday's futures.

LAW AND ORDER IN NEWARK.

Enforcement of the Sunday Law-No Rum, No Lager, No Cigars-A Generally Quiet Observance. Yesterday the friends of law and order in Newark had great cause for rejoicing. It was the first Sunday since the new Mayor came into power, and the first in a great many years to witness the enforcement of the law which prohibits the rum, lager, cigar, oyster or candy trame on the seventh day of the week. As already foreshadowed in the Herald, the law was observed throughout the city, except in one or two isolated saloon cases, without any force on the part of the authorities, and without any resistance on that of the dealers. Indeed it has long been a well known fact that all the respectable dealers stood ready at any time to obey the lawmany of them gladly for the sake of having one day off out of the seven-whenever it should be authoritatively given out that the law would be generally enforced. So long as it was not they had reasons both plausible and good for keeping open. The strongest was that if one dealer kept open and the other closed the former not only did a double trade on Sunday, but had opportunity to entice numbers of week day customers from the latter. All, then, it wanted was for the authorities to put down their leet and give ail to understand the law would be enforced. The former Mayor was AFRAID OF POLITICAL DEATH to do this when urged by the most influential to do this when arged by the most influential private citizens in large public meetings. He thought he had the German vote in his pocket and that that would pull him through any difficulty. But he was mistaken. He, the representative of the high toned republican party, was whipped, and the other man, the representative of 'ye fierce democracie,' the historic party of free rum, free lager and free everything, was victorious. The latter came out squarely on the issue, won and has already redeemed his pledges, being a man of andoubted grit and backbone. At tweive o'clock on Saturday night all the saioons closed. The police were clearly instructed and strongly warned by Chief Rogers to report any delinquent saloon keeper or others violating the law, that they might be prosecuted. With but one or two exceptions they all kept closed. The most noted infraction was that of the largest lager beer saloon in the city, an extensive place on Market street, kept by Mr. Waldmann. This place was closed, having prooably taken in about $2,000 during the day. Waldmann's notion, it appears, is that he can defy the law by paying a fine of $10, as the city ordinance provides, but it appears he is also hable to criminal prosecution under the State law, a matter upon which Judge Depue particularly dwelt in his charge to the Grand Jury last week.

THE ONLY DISTURBANCE
which took place was occasioned by a large crowd of Twelfth ward rangers, who marched up Market private citizens in large public meetings. He which took place was occasioned by a large crowd of Twelith ward rangers, who marched up Market street last evening in iront of Waldmann's, and were very disorderity. Acrowd of 500 collected, but soon the police were present in force, when a stampede took place. It is simple justice to the Police Department to say that so lar it has done its whole duty in the matter.

A NEWARK FIRE BUG ARRESTED.

On the 19th December last a fire took place in a house on Orange street, Newark, owned-by a Mrs. Henry, living in Jersey City. It was considered certain at the time that an incendiary had been at work, as some $350 worth of jewelry and apparel was carried off. Stephen Stoddard has been arrested and has conjessed to the jarceny of the property. He is also held for alleged arson.

THE ROTTEN SHANTY IN JERSEY. Coroner's Inquest-Arrest of an Alleged Implicated Party. At one o'clock yesterday Coroner Mahan empanelled a jury and proceeded to view the bodies of the two children, Hussey and Flanagan, who were buried under the ruins of the rotten shanty on Railroad avenue. The jury was then dismissed, and the inquest will be commenced today. John J. Smith, the man who had, as it is day. John J. Smith, the man who had, as it is alleged, excavated a hole 15 or more feet in depth at one end of the shanty, was arrested and locked up to await the result of the inquest. Through the efforts of his counsel he was released yesterday afternoon on his own recognizance to appear and answer any charge that may be preferred against him. But for the excavation, it is not likely the accident would have occurred. The Fire Commissioners are entrusted excavation it is not many the accusing which have occurred. The Fire Commissioners are entrusted by the charter with the duty of causing the removal of dangerous buildings and preventing the erection of frame buildings beyond certain limits. How far they are amenable to law in this case, as well as Smith, the next Grand Jury will determine.
